Emergency Eyewash, Pedestal Mounted, Stainless Steel

GENERAL INFORMATION & GUIDELINES

Emergency eye wash stations are designed to deliver water to rinse chemical substances from a person's eyes, face or body.

WARNING: Eye wash stations are NOT to be used as substitutes for primary protective equipment (such as gloves, masks, eye protection, and protective clothing) when handling dangerous substances. Simply installing these stations is not sufficient to assure worker safety. Staff must be trained in the use, maintenance, and knowledge of the eye wash station. A response plan and action should be in place in the event that an accident does occur and employees have guidelines to follow for injured personnel.

Below are guidelines that should be followed in accordance with the eye wash station when applicable. Note OSHA regulations, accessibility & surroundings, and water connections before assembling and installing the eye wash combo station. There are certain circumstances where these guidelines may not be adequate.

LOCATION OF EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT

- Per ANSI Specifications, emergency equipment must be installed on the same level as the possible incident (e.g. stairs/ramps must not be required to use the unit).
- It is advised that emergency equipment be installed within 10 seconds (approx. 55 feet) of walking time/distance from the location of the possible incident.

WATER TEMPERATURE

- Water temperature should be between 60°F(15.5°C) – 100°F(37.8°C). This can vary depending on the chemical substance and should be consulted with a safety counselor.

SHUT OFF VALVES

- These stationary eye wash units are designed to be connected to a clean and viable water supply line.
- A shut off valve on the water line is advised to easily maintain/repair the station.
- If a shut off valve is installed, make sure necessary procedures are established to prevent misuse of the valve. Only authorized personal should be installing/maintaining the shut off valve.

CORROSION & RUST RESISTANCE

- All parts of the system must be constructed of materials that will not corrode.

FREEZING CONDITIONS

- Emergency equipment that must be installed in potential freezing conditions should be installed with the proper equipment to protect against freezing per ANSI Z358.1 Section 4.5.5, 5.4.5.
- Freeze resistant equipment includes but is not limited to:
 1. Temperature actuated bleed valve that permits water to flow through the unit when the temperature drops below freezing.
 2. Remote-activated valves or electrically heated units/heated enclosures.

Emergency Eyewash, Pedestal Mounted, Stainless Steel

DISPOSAL OF WATER

- Waste water must be treated with care to avoid creating any hazards. It is highly recommended that emergency shower stations should be connected to drain piping or flood drains. Depending on the chemical substances, drainage into an acid waste disposal system may be recommended.
