

IMPORTANT SAFETY RECALL

Re: Recall for Dorel Home Furnishings, Inc. Cosco 2-Step Kitchen Stepper

In cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Products Safety Commission, Dorel Home Furnishings, Inc. is conducting a Voluntary Safety Recall of certain Cosco 2-step kitchen steppers, as the safety bar on the back of the product can detach or break while in use, posing serious fall and injury hazards to consumers may not latch properly or break, posing a fall risk to consumers.

The recalled 2-step kitchen steppers bear the model numbers: 11349WHG1E, 11349GRN1E, 11349NVY1E, 11349WHG2, 11349GRN4, 11349GRN12, 11349WHG12C, 11349WHG12W, 11349WHG4F, and 11349CBWH4T and were distributed beginning in February 2021.

The firm has received 34 reports of incidents concerning involving the 2-step kitchen steppers, including two incidents resulting in head injuries.

We ask that you check the units in your inventory to determine if you still have any of the subject 2-step kitchen steppers. If you do, stop sale of the affected 2-step kitchen steppers immediately.

Consumers should immediately stop using the safety bar on the recalled kitchen stepper and store it out of children's reach until it is repaired. Contact Cosco for a free replacement sliding lock mechanism, including installation instructions and updated safety warnings.

Consumers should follow one of the following to request their kit:

Visit: <https://www.coscoproducts.com> and click on "SAFETY NOTICES" at the top

Call: 1-888-628-3778 (Monday–Friday, 9 a.m.–6 p.m. ET)

Email: recall@coscoproducts.com

Enclosed is a copy of notification letters that Cosco plans to send to those consumers for which it has contact information. We request that you do the same.

Our number one priority is the satisfaction and safety of our customers. Thank you in advance for your cooperation.